

A sepia-toned photograph of a large, arched steel truss bridge spanning a deep, rocky gorge. The bridge has multiple tracks and is surrounded by dense evergreen forests and steep, snow-dusted mountains in the background. The photo is mounted on a dark album page.

A sepia-toned, arched photograph of a railroad bridge spanning a deep, rocky gorge. The bridge has a white metal truss structure. The surrounding landscape is rugged, with steep, rocky cliffs and sparse vegetation. In the background, a large, snow-capped mountain rises above a valley filled with evergreen trees. The sky is hazy or misty.
